Blurt it

Step 1

Name _____ Date _____

1. Cover your notes and put your phone face down.
2. Set a timer for 5 minutes.
3. Write down everything you remember about resource management: facts, key words, processes, and your case studies and examples. Diagrams and sketch maps count too.

Stuck? Start with one of these: food miles · water transfer · energy mix

When the timer ends, turn over and check what you remembered.

Steps 2, 3 and 4

Check it

Tick each idea you wrote down, even in your own words.

- [ ] Food, water and energy matter for development and quality of life
- [ ] These resources are spread unevenly: the places that use the most are often not where they come from
- [ ] UK food: more imported and out-of-season food means more food miles and a bigger carbon footprint
- [ ] Some UK producers and shoppers are moving towards local food; farming is becoming agribusiness
- [ ] UK water: demand is changing, and water quality and pollution must be managed
- [ ] UK water: some areas have more than they need and others less, so water is transferred
- [ ] UK energy: still relies heavily on fossil fuels, but renewables are a growing share
- [ ] UK coal, gas and oil production has fallen; extracting energy raises economic and environmental issues

Key words to use: resource · food security · water security · energy security · food miles · agribusiness organic produce · water quality · water transfer · energy mix · renewable · non-renewable · fossil fuel

I remembered _____ out of 8.

Fix it

Pick 3 ideas you missed. Look them up, then write each one correctly.
